

Loved By God

Forgiven

I'm so glad I know that Jesus loved me and gave Himself up for me. The Father loved me so much that He exchanged His Son for me! The Lamb of God came and took away my sins. My sins, iniquities, and lawless deeds He remembers no more. He has removed my transgressions from me as far as the East is from the West. There is therefore now no condemnation, no declaration of guilt over my life, because I'm in Christ Jesus. I am now justified, and I have peace with God so I can walk with Him with no sense of unworthiness or inferiority. God has proven His amazing love for me in that when I was still a sinner, Christ died for me. Jesus laid down His life for me and calls me His friend—no greater love can be shown to me! God has reconciled me to Himself through Jesus Christ. He no longer holds my sins against me—He has made me His friend; and I am now His ambassador and personal representative in order to share with others that today they can have peace with God and become His friend, too!

God loves me today, and He will always love me with His everlasting love!
